SOUTHERN DISTRICT YMCA ANNOUNCES GROWING BOARD

January 16, 2014 (Exeter, NH) – Southern District YMCA is pleased to announce growth in its board of directors that directly reflects the anticipated increase in community services this year. A new YMCA facility in Exeter will double the capacity of services and programs to the community and complement existing programs at YMCA Camp Lincoln and YMCA School Age Child Care. Because of this exciting growth and opportunity, Southern District YMCA added seven new members to the board of directors and installed new board leadership.

The Southern District YMCA Board of Directors is now comprised of 18 community influencers and leaders.

The 2015 Chief Volunteer Officer is Cindy Dominguez who has served on the board for six years. “The YMCA gave me confidence and inspired me to become the person I am today. Southern District YMCA affects so many youth in the community. As the organization grows, so will our reach. We are thrilled to welcome our new board members who bring enthusiasm and diverse expertise to this growing organization.”

New members are Jamie Brown, Director, National Accounts at Nutricia North America; Elizabeth DiBona, DMD of DiBona Dental Group; Peter Ihm, MD of Core Physicians; Peter Lennon, Consultant; Kevin O’Leary, Senior VP/CFO at Exeter Health Resources, Inc.; David Smith, Wealth Advisor Managing Member at Robinson Smith Wealth Advisors LLC; and Allison Yeagle, Marketing Professional.

New member, Dr. DiBona grew up going to the YMCA in Massachusetts for weekly swim lessons. “The Y was a big part of my childhood. Having a facility here in Exeter for the expanded community is a great asset. I was humbled to be asked to join the Southern District YMCA Board of Directors and I am excited to be a part of this growing organization.”
